

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The last apricots of the season are about in.

Two ordinary drunks were lodged in jail last evening by Marshal Blankenship.

It is learned that Morris Fleishman will visit San Francisco early during the coming month, and will return with a partner for life.

Ruff's threshing, which has been working for several weeks in the country north of Tempe, will move about July 5 upon the farms adjacent to Phoenix.

St. Peter's Day was celebrated by the Mexicans with horse racing and chicken pulling near the depot yesterday. About all the prisoners in town seemed to be in attendance.

By the Maricopa and Phoenix railroad yesterday came a car of lumber for Ryder, a car of lumber for Holmes, Gregory & Lindsey, and a car of general way freight.

The Phoenix and Bee Hive base ball clubs had a practice game yesterday afternoon at Patton's Park. But four innings were played, the score at the close standing 8 to 8.

Firecrackers are now prominently displayed for sale in the store windows, and the patriotic enthusiasm of the small boy will soon be limited only by his father's liberality.

Since St. John's Day, Father Francisco Jouvenceau has been having a large number of infants brought to him for baptism, three or four coming nearly every day. The census of Maricopa county is looming up.

Fiesta Matters.

At the Fiesta Saturday evening there was a regular jam. The street cars were more than crowded. Two cars carried to the grounds 147 people. They were crowded along the footboard so thickly that, at a switch, a passing car caught and squeezed several of the passengers, injuring a couple slightly. Last evening was an "off night." The contortionist contorted and the usual amusements were indulged in. Tonight the Spanish Dramatic club will give an exhibition. One fact to be noted about the Fiesta this year is the quietness attending it. The police courts have not received any considerable business by reason of its operation.

A RELIC OF OLDEN TIMES.

"Washington's Headquarters" at New York Undergoing Improvements.

Carpenters were busy yesterday, says the New York Times, on the upper floors of the old building at the corner of Broad and Pearl streets, known as Launce Tavern, and bearing upon its walls the sign, "Washington's Headquarters." The old landmark is in a very bad way and there is a great deal of work to be done before it can be considered renovated.

She Got a Pointer.

[New York Sun.]

Two men were playing a game of euchre in a drawing-room car on the Erie road and a little woman who had a seat near by watched the play with great interest. Finally, as a certain play was made she asked:

"Did he take that trick with the king of hearts?"

"Yes'm."

"He took your queen with his king?"

"Just so, ma'am."

"But a queen is higher than a king."

"Oh, no, ma'am, the queen ranks one below the king."

"Is that so everywhere?"

"Yes'm."

"Can't be no mistake?"

"Not the slightest. Don't you play?"

"Not much. My husband set out to teach me, but I took all his kings with my queens, and he got mad and quarreled about it, and—"

"And you don't play any more?"

"N—no, sir, but I'll telegraph him within the next ten minutes that I was wrong, and that all is forgiven, and that I'll return and let him even take the bowers with ten-spots if he wants to!"

Wilfred Clarke, a son of John S. Clarke and a nephew of Edwin Booth, was married recently to Victoria Bateman, the well-known actress.

An ingenious Boston manager started "Sailor Kid, the King of Tramps," to "beat" his way to San Francisco and back without a cent. The "Kid" accomplished his task in three weeks, was paid $500—which seems superfluous in view of the fact that he has learned to live without money—and is now a lecturer in the Boston manager's museum.
